The Importance of Clothes

Have you ever really thought about your clothes? Why do people wear clothes? There are (30) important reasons for wearing clothes.

The first reason is to cover our bodies. You can do this very easily. Then why do people usually cover most of their bodies? People of different times and places have different ideas about right and wrong clothes. Ask how much of the body they should cover. You'll get different answers. In some parts of India and North Africa, women cover their faces. For a long time, people in China thought it was wrong to show their feet, and not long ago, people in Europe and North America didn't show any part of their legs.

The next reason for wearing clothes is to protect our bodies. Clothes protect us from heat and cold, snow and rain. Heavy clothes and strong boots protect people who work outside from bees, sharp stones, and dangerous animals. Other workers wear strong gloves and hard hats to protect themselves when they use machines.

The third reason for wearing clothes is utility;* for example, to carry things. Years ago, everybody carried a bag or something to hold food, money, and other useful things. Today, most clothes have pockets. Some suits have more than ten.

The last, and probably the most important reason for wearing clothes is vanity.* People want to look better. They want to look the same as other people, but they also want to look different from other people. One man's dark suit can look like every other dark suit, but he can wear a bright tie or shirt to show individuality.
